

Keeping your organisation working, whatever the issue

Abtec can help you create an effective business continuity plan (BCP). We've got over 20 years of experience helping organisations define and implement their BCP strategy. Our expertise can help your organisation remain operational, whatever the issue.

As an organisation's reliance on its IT resources grows, it's more important than ever to protect those assets. It's not just about client data. Applications, business processes, networks, even physical security can be affected too.

In its simplest form BCP is the proactive protection of selected assets to ensure that your organisation can still operate, should an incident occur. Business interruptions don't just stem from extreme examples of disaster. The combined effort of everyday issues can often cause more headaches than rare disasters.

An appropriate continuity plan can help your organisation better deal with business interruptions as they happen, as well as restoring operations faster.

Whether it's someone digging through your network links, an email virus, or server failure, we can protect your organisation against disruption.

Case Study

Abtec had only recently commissioned Smith Brothers Stores' disaster recovery data centre when a fire in an electrical distribution point caused a power outage to the firm's headquarters. IT and communications applications were in jeopardy of failing. This would have caused chaos for the staff at the HQ and nine retail branches.

The primary data centre automatically began to migrate its workload over to the secondary site, over 30 miles away. Within minutes business critical applications were back up and running. "I dread to think how much this would have cost the business without Abtec's planning and support." Lead IT manager, Smiths Brothers Stores Ltd.

Smith Brothers Stores Ltd
Suppliers to Building Services

For more information about how our BCP services could help your organisation please contact Abtec on 01858 438 500.

Abtec BCP services

Our business continuity services include:

- Building BCP strategy
- Implementing and maintaining continuity plan
- Data centre replication
- Network management
- Email protection
- Web protection

“Abtec has restored our management’s and staff’s confidence in our IT infrastructure”

Why choose Abtec?

Over the years we’ve built a portfolio of services that can support your business continuity planning; from simple email protection through to sophisticated real time data centre replication. We keep abreast of industry best practice and provide tried and trusted BCP products and services.

Our engineers have the accredited skills to design, deliver, maintain and test the business continuity service that’s right for you. Our advice and support can help protect your organisation from the everyday issues and extreme incidents.

For more information about how our BCP services could help your organisation please contact Abtec on 01858 438 500.