

The office in your hand

As one of a handful of O2 Wholesale Partners you have access to O2's award winning network at Abtec's wholesale prices. Our mobile services could help you cut costs and reduce precious administration resource.

It's a given that our wholesale prices should enable you to reduce your costs. What's more surprising are the other ways we can help you cut costs and manage your budget better.

Wholesale prices

We are one of a small number of O2 Wholesale Partners. Unlike many of our competitors we have complete control of our pricing, we aren't dictated to by our network suppliers. This doesn't end at O2; we can supply EE, Orange, T-Mobile and Vodafone's networks.

You're in control

With our online billing tool, Enlighten, you can see exactly where each handset in your estate is calling. You have access to online reports that can help analyse costs, saving you time and resource.

Ideal for organisations:

- Wanting more control over their mobile costs
- Looking to reduce costs

Our mobile services include:

- 4G business mobile packages
- Single and multi-user business mobile accounts
- The latest smartphones, including Apple, Samsung and HTC
- Individual mobile tariffs based around your business' calling patterns
- All the major UK network suppliers
- Online billing

Abtec Technology Fund

If your mobile service includes a technology fund, this credit can be used for both mobile hardware and Abtec's IT services. Many of our clients use this fund to support the purchase of new IT equipment and our professional services, such as setting up their data centre.

Making IT work

Unlike many of our competitors we hold many accredited IT skills, and IT expertise. We can help ensure that your IT and communications strategy supports your organisation's overall objectives.

Why choose Abtec?

With Abtec you get the benefits of wholesale pricing and the expertise of one of the UK's most experienced IT organisations. We are trusted to manage the IT and communications infrastructure of some well-known organisations, for example National Grid, Darlington Building Society and Yusen Logistics (UK) Ltd.

- We have our own, accredited, engineering force based in the UK
- We give you the tools to keep in control of your mobile estate
- Our wider IT and communications expertise can support your organisation's objectives.

Works well with:

- Abtec's online bill tool, Enlighten
- Unified communications
- Abtec's IT services

"We chose Abtec because their proposal met all of our requirements; reducing costs, personal service and wider IT expertise"

"We used Abtec for our business iPhones and by doing so saved ourselves a huge amount. They're also lovely people to work with. Nothing's too much trouble"
